

COMMON PLAYGROUNDS

What is Common Playgrounds?

Common Playgrounds is a disability sensitivity education program that aims to:

- Reduce stereotypes about the abilities of children with disabilities
- Increase inclusiveness and communication between children with and without disabilities

Program Components

Assembly Program: What do you know about people with disabilities?

This fun, informative, and interactive assembly program is based on various popular game shows and covers the gamut of what people with disabilities are capable of achieving.

Q & A/Discussion

Panel members allow participants to get “up close and personal” and ask questions of any nature regarding living with a disability. This segment can be presented to a large group or in small classroom settings.

Poster/Essay Contest

Utilizing what the children have learned and experienced, and using a main theme developed by LVCIL, participants depict through drawings or essays ways in which people with disabilities can be included in all areas of recreation, physical fitness, and having fun. Participant’s work is judged and awarded by LVCIL volunteers. This segment can be done as individuals or in small groups.

How to get Common Playgrounds in Your School!

For additional information or to schedule a Common Playgrounds performance, please contact the Common Playgrounds Coordinator, Sally Hill, at 610-770-9781 ext. 128.

Sally will set up a time with your educational facility to provide an accessibility site survey of your building or program location (to ensure it is accessible for our program volunteers). She will also meet with faculty/staff regarding participation in the program. In addition, Sally will schedule dates for performances including any inclement weather dates.
